

When determining the left and right rails use the black extrusions on the rails as guides.

Be sure they are facing towards each other and on the inside the rails.

From rowing position, determine which is the left and right side.

Left side rail

Right side rail